

Scribe #37 - Ramses the Great

1. How could a ruler achieve fame that would last 3,000 years?

many people consider Ramses the last great Egyptian pharaoh. He accomplished great things, but the pharaohs who followed could not maintain them. Both a great warrior and a great builder, he is known largely for the massive monuments he built. The temples at Karnak, Luxor and Abu Simbel stand as 3,000 year old symbols of the great pharaoh's power.

2. Why do you think Ramses built monuments all over Egypt?
